VERBAL DESCRIPTION:

This is a bone flute that may have also been used as a rasp.

If incomplete, specify the segment preserved: end segment – probably the end that was put in the mouth

The item: is – is not decorated. If decorated, describe location and nature of decoration:

The flute is decorated w/ at least 4 incisions spaced about 1cm apart that ring the circumference (rather than run lengthwise). At least 2 holes were bore into the flute.

The item is: not eroded – slightly – moderately – extremely – eroded.

The item is: not drawn – drawn. Where? on back

Comments:

The artifact was broken into multiple fragments – some new breaks, some old breaks – which were reconstructed using superglue by the cataloguer (#35). The artifact now consists of 3 pieces – 1 large segment that has 4 incisions + 1 hole. The 2 other pieces are small fragments that appear to have broken off ~~at the incisions~~ <sup>areas</sup> along/at incisions ~~at the incisions~~ (weak/thin ~~pieces~~). One of these fragments has part of a hole.
